I am currently engaged extensively with the relation of the still and the moving image using photographic and cinematic mediums, along with the newer additions of digital software. During my postgraduate course I have collaborated with students that come from a range of backgrounds and nationalities researching and developing new and innovative boundaries of image-making made possible by technological change within the context of post-industrial culture. As an individual I am a passionate and enthusiastic mixed-media animator, web and graphic designer, who likes experimenting with different techniques and platforms. I particularly value the idea of working within a group of creative and dynamic people because I believe that bringing many different ideas into one project can make it all the more interesting and successful.
